CAIRO, Dec. 11.—With 30,000 Italo-Libyan troops apparently trapped in northwestern Egypt, Britain's mechanized forces surged forward amid a deafening artillery din along a 30-mile battlefield today, threatening Premier Mussolini's invading forces with eventual annihilation.

A brief official statement at army headquarters said that British operations in the western desert were continuing satisfactorily. Isolated pockets of Italian troops are being systematically wiped up, it was said. Detonation of tank guns and

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Just two weeks from today is Christmas day.

William McKee, of Neshannock avenue, has returned home from a hunting trip in Cameron county, with a doe.

Windows of the west side school are decorated with cut out figures depicting the Christmas season. "The wise men from the east," "The Babe in the Manger," etc.

Pa Newc is informed that a lot of dogs are running at large and chasing small game, in the district about four miles north of the city, in the Wilmington road section. Especially at night are the dogs running at large, it is reported.

Paul Crum, of Miller avenue, R. D. 2, has returned from a hunting trip near Marienville. He succeeded in "bagging" a 150 pound doe.

John William Axe, of 903 Chestnut street, has returned home, bringing with him a doe, weighing about 180 pounds. He secured the deer while hunting in McKean County.

No doubt many folks wonder why so many birds stay around the park, on the Diamond, and roost in the trees there. One of the main reasons is that they are "camping" near the source of some of their "eats". George Foster, the newspaper vendor.

Four Workmen Killed At Indiantown Gap

(International News Service)
INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Dec. 11.—Local authorities launched an investigation today of the deaths of four civilian workmen who were buried alive when the shale walls of a six-foot deep sewer trench collapsed on the Indiantown Gap military reservation.

The men were following a mechanical trench digger in a narrow ditch when the loosely-packed earth slipped and crushed them. Fellow workers extricated them almost immediately. They all were pronounced dead by Lebanon county coroner John D. Bogar.

The dead: Guy M. Hackenbury,

24, and Richard Goddard, 23 both of Millintown; Allan G. Synder, 20 Pottsville, and Benjamin Richards 40, Harrisburg negro.

Second Accident

The accident was the second on the huge military reservation in as many days. On Monday three workmen were hospitalized and nine others less seriously injured when the scaffolding on a hospital building collapsed and hurled the men to the ground.

C. R. Carter, project manager for the $6,000,000 construction job preparing to house more than 20,000 men, said a corps of workers were

Sporadic German Air Attacks On Britain

(International News Service)
LONDON, Dec. 11.—Sporadic German air attacks on Britain were resumed today after a night in which Nazi aerial activity dropped to a minimum.

During the morning one German raider dropped several light bombs on the northeast coast. Anti-aircraft guns remained silent. Earlier London experienced its first air raid alarm since 6 p. m. Sunday. It was the capital's 402nd alarm of the war.

The sirens sounded soon after the moon disappeared and was accompanied by intense searchlight activity and heavy anti-aircraft firing on the outskirts.

But all the action ended in less than three minutes and the all-clear signal was given, leading to belief a lone reconnaissance plane had been sighted. No bombing was reported in the London region.

The air ministry communique stated merely that there was "very little" enemy air activity during the night and that no reports of damage or casualties had been received.

It was believed that fog over the German air bases plus intense aerial icing conditions over the continent were responsible for the absence of German aircraft. Nevertheless, it was believed the R. A. F. bombers were busy during the night.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—A British offensive against German U-boats and surface raiders in the Atlantic ocean was in the making today in a renewed drive to clear the seas of enemy vessels harassing British merchant shipping.

Indications of the offensive followed reinforcement of special naval units and the R. A. F. coastal command force and widening zones of operations.

It was assumed that the destroyers recently obtained by Britain from the United States will play an important role in the drive against Nazi submarines.

While some strengthening of British convoy defenses has proved possible without weakening the fleet, authorities said that the more American war vessels Britain can obtain, the better her position will be.

Porcupine Added To Gaston Park Animal Display

Another wild animal has been added to the animal house at Gaston Park, due to the kindness of Messrs Anderson and Heasley, of the Buer road.

Recently, while deer hunting in the big woods, these men secured a porcupine, which they caged, for presentation to Mr. Fox.

He states that the animal is a fine large specimen, weighing about fifteen pounds.

The porcupine is getting along all right, and seems to be contented. It is being fed with tree bark, leaves and pine needles.

This was the second porcupine received by Owen Fox, during the week. The other being small, and having not been correctly fed, died during transportation

London Hears That Greeks Have Captured Hundreds Of Italian Troops

ATHENS, Dec. 11.—With Premier Mussolini's harried legions reportedly preparing to evacuate all Albania, Greek forces today pressed forward on the northern front in a determined drive against the central Albanian base of Elbasan.

Despite heavy snow and winds of gale velocity, heavy fighting began near Radocol in the Lake Achrid region as the fight for possession of Elbasan swung into action.

On the southern front northwest of Argirocastro, strong Greek columns captured another important village after a 48-hour battle.

Make Deep Advance

Fighting against stubborn Italian resistance, the Greeks made a deep advance at another point on the south coast, and all along the front the hellenic columns are pressing the enemy fiercely, according to messages reaching Athens.

The airport at Argirocastro was completely ruined in the recent fighting for that city, it was revealed.

Pierce hand-to-hand fighting progressed on the northern slope of the Mokra mountain range while other Greek detachments continued their advance along the Skumbi and Devoli river valleys in the central section, meeting stiff resistance as they moved forward.

North of Pogradec Greek forces were approaching the town of Lin, according to advices received in Athens.

The reports of a possible evacuation arose from information that the Fascists are frantically fortifying the port of Durazzo. Military experts regarded this as a preparation for an evacuation.

Greek Communique

The Greek high command issued a brief but optimistic communique which said:

"Our offensive action continued with success on the whole front. Some strong positions were taken

Western Germany Is Bombed By British

(International News Service)
LONDON, Dec. 11.—Despite unfavorable weather conditions, Royal Air force bombers carried out a number of attacks of Western Germany and Nazi-occupied territory during the night, the air ministry announced today.

The principal targets, the communique said, were airbases, railway junctions, power stations, and harbor facilities. Two planes reportedly failed to return from the raids.

Britain Refuses To Lift Blockade To Allow Food To Go Through

Medical Supplies Will Be Allowed To Go Through It Is Announced

By DAMON RUNYON, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The United States today is confronted with one of the most challenging problems arising from the European war—how to relieve hunger of its war victims, in face of a new British declaration against such aid.

With various American agencies ready to pour supplies of food into continental Europe to prevent a threatened famine this winter and spring, Lord Lothian, British ambassador to the United States, announced that his government cannot lift England's blockade to allow passage of these shipments.

Competent government agencies for the last several weeks have gravely forecast near starvation in German-occupied territories and other areas of Europe, unless food shipments are rushed to the continent.

Countries Hardest Hit

Countries to be hardest hit by the food situation are the territory of Poland, France and the lowlands, according to government reports, because of the drain on their production by Germany. The pinch will also be felt in the Balkans and Italy, even in Germany and Britain.

U. S. Plans New Sanctions Vs. Japan

New Economic Barriers Near

Reports Persist Asiatic Fleet Is Now Being Reinforced

NEW SANCTIONS TO HIT IRON AND STEEL

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The United States today prepared to impose further economic barriers in the path of Japan. While reports persisted that the American Asiatic fleet is being reinforced.

With sanctions scheduled to be imposed Dec. 30 on important iron and steel materials vital to the Japanese, authoritative sources intimated that, as a precautionary measure, important moves are being made by the fleet from Hawaii or the Philippines. An announcement regarding warship movements is expected to come from fleet headquarters in the Pacific as a climax to the extension of the anti-Japanese sanctions.

New Sanctions

President Roosevelt authorized the new sanctions as high government officials studied new ways to increase aid to Britain after a conference in the office of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau.

Attending the conference were Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones, Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, Secretary of War Stimson, Army Chief of Staff George Marshall, Undersecretary of the Navy James Forrestal, National Defense Council Production Chief William S. Knudsen and their aides.

Morgenthau's only statement was: "The purpose of this meeting was to bring this group of U. S. officials up to date on the information which we have obtained from Sir Frederick Phillips, undersecretary of the British treasury."

Similar meetings in the past however were followed by new announcements of aid to Britain, such as the release of army bombers and the trade of American destroyers for naval bases.

TUBERCULOSIS DEATH RATE

Nowadays the average white person up to the age of 25, has but one chance in 30 of eventually dying from tuberculosis. Less than two decades ago the chances were twice as great.

A certain business man says he always gives his office help a month's vacation—two weeks when they go on theirs and two weeks while he is gone on his.

DUCHESS HAS DENTAL OPERATION

ation, Dr. Cartee sought medical consultation to ascertain her general physical condition. After appropriate laboratory studies her physical condition was checked by Dr. Robert M. Harris and Dr. Cayetano Penetiere. Then the anesthetic (cyclopropane gas) was administered by Dr. Colquhoun Pearson and Dr. Ralph Sappenfield.

Dr. Cartee then removed the infected tooth.

The Duchess was in the operating room for twenty five minutes. Dr. Cartee later reported the condition of the jaw bone was "more serious than anticipated." He said, however, that she withstood the operation well and reacted promptly and favorably.

Remains In Hospital

It had been planned that she would leave the hospital today for a hotel in Coral Gables, but upon the advice of Dr. Cartee, the Duke decided it would be advisable for them to remain in the hospital at least until Friday. This would prolong the stay of the Windsors in Miami a day or two longer than they had intended.

The Duke's first and foremost thoughts are for his wife, and her wants. But he had planned, if possible, to play a little golf later in the week. He has brought his clubs along, including the "calamity Jane" putter which Bobby Jones gave him years ago. He ruefully remarked however, that the club "hasn't helped my putting much."

engaged each night in digging sewer trenches and foundations for buildings. He asserted the accident occurred at 7:15 p. m.

"A section of shale about 20 feet high and four to five feet wide suddenly slipped into one side of the trench pinning the four men against the opposite side, Carter declared.

"Workers began immediately to dig them out but they were badly crushed, though promptly rescued," he added.

Carter pointed out that because of the comparative shallowness of the trenches they had not been considered especially dangerous especially in the shale sections.

The tragedy occurred only a few hours after Maj. William L. Kay, directing construction of the housing project, told newspapermen that he was "more worried" about accidents in deep ditches than on the construction of 700 buildings.

But most important is that both the Mediterranean and the Adriatic are usually bathed in sunshine and the Royal Air Force, stationed at Malta, Corfu, Crete and Alexandria, will have nothing less than happy hunting from start to finish if the Italians find it necessary to desert their Albanian and African bases and strike for home by sea.

To Trap Fascists

Reports in Athens tell of frantic Italian attempts to fortify Durazzo as a cover for Italian evacuation, while at the same time the campaign of General Sir Archibald Wavell's forces in the Egyptian desert is clearly designed to trap the fascists between El Sollum and Matruh, giving the choice of retreating south into the inhospitable desert where there is no water or north into the Mediterranean where there is too much of it.

Italy's foreign minister Count Ciano is reported going to Berlin, possibly for advice. He may be told there is none to give for the Germans, thus far at least, have been scrupulously careful in keeping themselves out of the sort of trap II Duce seems to have set for himself.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 11.—Mrs. Celia Penfield, 33, of Cranestown, Erie county, struggled for her life today in Hamot hospital, victim of what police termed an accidental shooting by a farmhand at her home.

A small calibre rifle bullet entered her back and lodged in the right side of her chest.

State motor police said that George Koracs, 18, told them he was unloading the rifle in the chicken coop on the Penfield farm when his fingers, numb from cold, touched the trigger. The gun discharged. The victim's husband, Lloyd, was hunting when the accident occurred. A neighbor rushed Mrs. Penfield to the hospital.

U. S. BALKED IN EFFORT TO FEED EUROPE'S HUNGRY

The American Red Cross and an organization headed by former President Herbert Hoover have rostered plans to alleviate the situation, but these were fore-doomed by Luthian's statement.

The ambassador said he put these proposals before his government on his recent visit to England, but that they were rejected on the contention that "under present conditions any such scheme must be of material assistance to Germany's war effort and would thereby postpone the day of liberation of these peoples from German subjugation."

Luthian declared that Great Britain is risking starvation and undergoing every conceivable hardship and cannot "endanger our existence and imperil our cause by weakening our blockade."

Will Aid Medical Supplies

He reiterated, however, that Britain is "at all times prepared to facilitate the passage . . . of medical supplies destined for distribution in territories occupied by Germany and in unoccupied France by approved bodies."

In apparent reference to the food plans of the American groups, Luthian said his government has been unable to discover any scheme of distribution by neutral authorities which, "in the light of the Nazi record, could provide guarantees against the strengthening of the German war potential by the importation of food stuffs."

Luthian said the risk of starvation, according to British information, "has been greatly exaggerated."

"The Nazi authorities, who state that their reserves are untouched by the blockade, persistently claim that they have plenty of food for Europe, so that if there is hardship in these countries it is because the German government has been depriving them of their own supplies," the ambassador declared.

At her home on Galbreath avenue on Tuesday evening, Miss Marion B. Cromie was hostess at a gathering of a group of her girl friends, the affair being a medium for the announcement of her engagement to George W. Conway, Jr.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

NOISES AND FACES

"Dear Dr. Myers: I wish you could advise me in regard to my son. He is twelve years old and makes at times the most peculiar noises and faces. I have been scolding him for years to stop doing these things but it doesn't help. "What would you advise me is the reason that he makes these noises and faces?"

My reply: "It is easy to see that you have been annoyed by the 'noises and faces' your boy makes. Did it ever occur to you how much he has been annoyed by you? I am not scolding you, Mrs. —, I'm just trying to help you understand your child's problem. Bless you, he does not do these things to vex you. He does them because he is a very nervous child, a sick child. If you consult your doctor, he will doubtless tell you so.

You see, the more you are irritated at his nervous expressions, the more nervous he becomes. Think how discouraged he must feel as you nag at him for doing what he is sure he can't keep from doing.

Discipline Yourself
"In order to quit harming your boy and turn to helping him, you will first have to change yourself. You will have to discipline yourself to show no emotion whatsoever over his 'noises and faces.' You will be able to do this best as you learn to put yourself in your imagination into your boy's place and feel a little as he feels. It may take you some weeks to arrive at such self-mastery.

"Once you do not only will say nothing to him about his 'noises and faces' you also will say nothing with your hands, feet, body, face or breathing organs. Instead you will, in his presence, assume an air of all is well. To this end you will rest more and have more relaxation, letting many things about the house go if necessary. A week or two away from home may be required for you to regain complete composure. With your self-mastery should come similar self-mastery from other members of your family and relatives and those friends. When serene yourself and alone with him, put your arms around him and show him some affection.

Program Of Relaxation
"The second part of your campaign should center on deriving a program of more relaxation for the boy. Hold him rigidly to regular hours to sleep. During the summer he should lie down and be quiet for 1½ hours each afternoon. You might help calm him then by reading some to him. Also he should play out of doors but never to the point of excessive fatigue. A few weeks in a summer camp might help him.

"Until you see marked improvement, keep him from the movies entirely. Forbid his listening to exciting radio programs indefinitely.

Solving Parent Problem
Q. Would you go through the pockets or purse or your son or daughter of five, nine or sixteen?
A. No. It would destroy the child's confidence.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

DO IT ANYWAY
Gambling-Jockey Rings are being investigated just now, but whatever the result of the investigation may be, the bettor's enthusiasm for playing the ponies will not be much shaken.

There is a reason for this. A bettor apparently can't help betting. It's a fever in the blood, a gleam in the eye that common sense will never dim. Tell him it's as sensible to throw his money out of the window as to bet with it and he'll probably agree with you. It's not the money he's after. It's the spinning thrill of suspense as Old Bangtail goes snorting around the track and, with a mighty snort near the finish line, manages to nose out Dapple Dynamo and clinch seventh place.

Let it be proved that jockeys receive handsome fees for "pulling their horses"—as the current investigations indicate—and your dyed-in-the-wool bettor, more likely than not, will start giving you odds as to which jockey is "pulling" what horse in the second race of the day at Horseshoe Hollow.

Fair play and sportsmanship have never, in many racing stables, been so conspicuous by their presence that they crowded out the horses. Hapless nags have been doped to give them the omph to win, they have been "put in" to make them lose, and they have been painted from ears to fetlocks to disguise their identity and shatter the "infallible system" of the wisecracker.

To the advice, "You can't win!" the inveterate bettor retorts, if honest, "You can't stop me. I know I can't win!"

Hints On Etiquette

It is not good manners to call a friend—or anyone—by a nickname you know he or she dislikes.

A man from the country tied his mules in front of a store where a phonograph was being demonstrated. He stuck the tubes in his ears and a band began playing.

"Wait a minute boys, there's that

Another man went home from a picnic and made this comment: "Tom paid money to hear the phonograph and asked for band music and a band was right there on the platform playing free band music."

Other Readers' Questions Answered
Question: My employer, who is middle-aged, insists on driving me home after office. This has become very embarrassing to me, as I think the other girls are becoming unnecessarily suspicious I do not believe his intentions are ulterior, but nevertheless, I wish to avoid being talked about. Can you suggest any way that I might refuse his offer without hurting his feelings?—Stenog.

Answer: Make excuses. Tell him you are not going home. . . . that you have an engagement after office hours. If you know any "understanding" young men, explain your situation to them and ask them to take turns calling for you at 5 o'clock until you have convinced your employer that his kindness is unnecessary.

If you believe that your employer's intentions are honorable go to him and explain your suspicions. To protect his good name as well as yours, he will understand perfectly and go his way alone, to protect you from scandal.

Question: Where should the date be placed on a letter?
Answer: In a business letter, the date should be placed in the upper right-hand corner. In a social letter, it may be placed at the bottom of the letter, to the left of the signature. If preferred, it may be placed in the upper right-hand corner and the address at the end of the letter.

Question: Recently I attended a dinner at which the salad course was served along with the main course. Should I not the salad have been served after the main course?

Answer: Usually it is but it may be served along with the main course.

Dies Scores Point In Plea For Funds
Says FBI May Degenerate Into Gestapo
Administration However Not In Accord

By CHARLES P. STEWART

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Chairman Martin Dies of the house of representatives' committee on investigation of un-American activities made at least one pretty good point in his recent radio broadcast seeking popular support for his demand for continuation of his quiz, on a $1,000,000 financial allowance, during 1941. Anyway, that is the opinion I hear quite widely expressed in congressional circles in Washington.

The administration takes the position that the committee already has accomplished whatever (and that that didn't amount to much) was expected of it that it's a nuisance to the justice department by its everlasting publicity concerning matters that the department is trying to handle under cover. Furthermore, that the department's FBI is a deal more effective than the committee, that the latter is a pest to the state department, too, by stirring up unpleasantness, that the desired $1,000,000 simply will be wasted, and that the sooner the representative inquisition ends the better it will be.

Chairman Dies' answer is that the FBI's security is what he doesn't like about it. It's liable, he intimates, to develop or degenerate into a kind of OGPU or GESTAPO, like Stalin's or Hitler's.

Some Congressmen Agree

And that's what quite a few congressmen say he may be right about.

Back in Harry M. Daugherty's day as attorney general under President Harding, the justice department's FBI (federal bureau of investigation, with William Burghes at the head of it, did transform itself into an outfit not so very different from what today are Russia's OGPU or Germany's GESTAPO. It certainly wasn't as murderous as they're reputed to be, although one homicide was pretty generally attributed to it. But it's fairly well established that it tapped wires freely, that it broke into senators' and representatives' offices and ransacked their correspondence files in an effort to get the political goods on them, and that it indulged in numerous other GESTAPO-ish practices.

Of course, all that sort of thing was abolished as a sequel to the scandal period which followed President Harding's death. Nobody even hints that such conditions prevail now under Attorney General Hoover. H. Jackson, with J. Edgar Hoover as his FBI chief.

Nevertheless, it's hard to dispute Chairman Dies' hint that it's a possible situation, since it actually did exist for a while in the Harding regime.

Can't Forget Past

It was an era which is more or less forgotten now, but there are law-makers on Capitol Hill who still remember it. As one congressional critic remarked to me, "I don't question the desirability of undercover work when the FBI's dealing with kidnapping and out-and-out interstate racketeering, but I'm in favor of all colors of publicity in connection with these borderline cases."

Chairman Dies likewise contends that the FBI isn't as capable as the administration says it is in ferreting out un-American activities. He points out that his committee has disclosed plenty of them that the FBI never had done anything about, and he doesn't believe that it knew of them.

The congressman emphasizes that he isn't attacking the FBI, but he surely is pretty critical of it.

The administration's argument is that it's congress' business to enact laws and the governmental executive's task to enforce them. And it reasons that Dies, a legislator, is endeavoring to break into enforcement, which is none of his affair, assert Uncle Sam's executives.

A bit of jealousy is involved in the controversy.

Up To Congress

Anyway, the White House itself failed to appease Dies. President Roosevelt summoned him clear from Texas, to urge him to call off his dog, and Dies' answer was that radio (Continued On Page Five)

Coordinator McNutt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11

APPROPRIATION that the Administration plans to take over and operate the social life of the soldiers and sailors of our vastly expanded armed forces as a big and practically exclusive New Deal project is not lessened by the recent appointment of Mr. Paul McNutt as coordinator of all "health, medical, welfare, nutrition, recreation and other related fields of activity affecting the national defense."

ON the contrary, the selection of Mr. McNutt appears strong confirmatory evidence that the volunteer welfare organizations, such as the Y. M. C. A., the Jewish Welfare, the Knights of Columbus and Salvation Army, which in the last war handled the recreation activities inside the reservations, are scheduled over time to play a secondary and subordinate part outside the reservations. Perhaps the volunteer organizations affected are acquiescent and satisfied with the new arrangement. Or perhaps they just have not grasped the full implications of the various steps which have been taken under Administration pressure.

In any event, the McNutt selection had behind it the New Deal elements which from the start have insisted that this defense job should be an Administration job and that neither the industrialists nor any other volunteer or drafted individuals should be permitted to become too important. Their contention has been that the whole defense effort should be conducted through the ordinary governmental channels, with New Dealers rather than businessmen bossing the job. The latter, it is conceded, are indispensable, but should function in an advisory capacity rather than as heads clothed with complete authority. In brief, the power ought to be kept in strictly Administration hands.

THAT is the big idea, and the McNutt appointment fits right into it. Mr. McNutt is a practical political practitioner who holds the position of Federal Security Administrator. He was an ardent aspirant for the Presidential nomination last year and waged quite an expensive pre-convention campaign. However, he always made his candidacy subordinate to that of Mr. Roosevelt, over and over again declaring that if the President should run he would not. During the campaign he made numerous and fervent speeches for the third-term ticket; and, while he is by no means one of the "inner circle," nevertheless he did endorse himself to the President and his political managers because of the manner in which he swallowed his disappointment and the meek way in which he submitted himself to treatment which many men would have resented. Now his scope has been expanded and his importance increased by delegating to him much greater authority than he before possessed, and making him a big figure in the defense program.

IT is interesting that, while for months every effort has been made to get Mr. Roosevelt to appoint a coordinator with power to coordinate the airplane industry, and to give the Defense Commission a chairman with power to coordinate its work, the only coordinator, with power whom he has named is Mr. McNutt, in a field where there was no coordinator demanded. If his job means anything, it means that Mr. McNutt, a New Deal machine (Continued On Page Five)

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
NEW YORK.—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes urges U. S. and its possessions to accept political refugees:
"The nation that offers no place of refuge to the victims of tyranny no longer knows what liberty is. And a people who do not know what liberty is can never maintain it for themselves."

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau opposes tax-exempt securities:
"We don't want to be a partner toward making possible the additional creation of what I call slack-money."

NEW YORK.—Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, says danger in unity built on war hysteria:
"Fanatical insistence of conformity may carelessly distort national unity into precisely the kind of totalitarianism we wish to avoid."

politician and himself the head of a none-too-savory Indiana machine, is to be the sole boss of the social life of the millions and more young men who will be in the cantonments and naval reservations the coming year. It means that the part to be played by the volunteer welfare organizations will be the part assigned by him. It means that the purpose to make the recreation activities an Administration project has been given him to put into effect.

It is true that the volunteer organizations have been consulted by army and navy authorities. It is true they have been buttered with fair words and promises. It is true that their cooperation has been requested and great emphasis has been laid upon the need for them to expand so as to help in caring for the spiritual and social needs of the soldiers and sailors. But it is also true that it has already been determined that they are going to be outside the reservations and not inside—as they were in the last war. And now it has been determined that they are to function under the direction of a tin back hard-boiled machine politician as there is in the country.

IT is an entirely new social setup—something wholly different from anything that has been tried before. Perhaps these volunteer organizations, which did so well in the last war, will like it after it gets started. Perhaps being outside instead of inside will enable them to function as effectively as before. Perhaps the soldiers and sailors will stop in when they get outside, instead of going to town. But it does not seem likely. From a detached view, it looks as though these volunteer organizations are slated to play a very secondary role indeed to the NYA, the WPA and other Administration agencies. It looks as though in a nice, friendly way, they are being given a "run-around."

heavy aerial bomb explosions were heard throughout the night as the British advance continued without respite.

Hammered Relentlessly

During every hour of the three-day battle, the R. A. F. held mastery of the air, headquarters declared. Enemy bases, transport lines, and troop concentrations were hammered relentlessly.

"The sky over the battlefield was filled with British planes, the announcement said.

Reports received in Cairo said at least 4,000 Fascist soldiers have been captured by the charging British units and that two full Italian divisions of 15,000 men each faced annihilation or forced surrender in the Sidi Barrani area.

British reports indicated these successes were gained by one of the most powerfully coordinated land, naval and aerial assaults ever seen on any battle front.

Navy and Planes Aid

In the Mediterranean just off the coast British warships hurled shells into Italian communication lines while British bombers pounded Italian defense posts stretching back 250 miles.

On the ground the British troops in their mechanical war monsters thundered ahead between the Egyptian plateau and the Mediterranean, dealing out military blows matching those meted out to the Fascists in Albania by the bayonet-wielding Greeks.

It was claimed that at least 22 Italian planes have been shot down since the British counter-offensive began.

"Revealing that 'Free French' forces of Gen. Charles De Gaulle had participated in the Egyptian drive, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the British House of Commons yesterday that the 'preliminary phase' of operations was 'very successful'."

It appeared that the British were about to recapture Sidi Barrani, which the British abandoned last September soon after the initial Italian drive began.

Drive Powerful Wedge

Already the British have driven a powerful wedge between the Libyan troops holding Sidi Barrani and supporting Fascist divisions further west.

Dispatches reaching Cairo said the Italian resistance had collapsed on the Arid desert front almost as completely as in Greece and Albania.

Sir Maitland Wilson, commander of the British Egyptian forces and responsible for the present offensive, was able to send his forces dashing across 75 miles of Egypt in a single night in their speedy mechanized trucks and tanks.

While the advance continued from newly-established bases, British fleet units shelled Sidi Barrani and the important Italian field camp at Maktila as well as other Italian positions.

On the 30-mile front between the

with the bayonet, and the enemy suffered heavy losses. Three four-inch guns fell into our hands."

In addition to the 4,000 prisoners, British authorities said a number of medium Italian tanks had been captured.

A communique from the British headquarters announced: "Operations on the western desert are continuing successfully. The number of prisoners so far captured is reported to exceed 4,000."

"Patrolling activity, supported by our artillery fire, continued in the Gallabat area of the Sudan."

Report Big Captures

But the heaviest battle was believed in progress on the northern front, where the Greeks stormed the Kamija range and took fortified Italian positions at bayonet point prior to today's battles in the Mokra Mountains.

"The London News Chronicle reported that the Greeks captured hundreds of prisoners, a million hand grenades and millions of cartridges as well as hundreds of trench mortars and 500 horses after overwhelming several Italian supply bases."

Informed quarters claimed the Greek advance had reached objectives which would cause a "sensational" if they were revealed.

(Budapest heard the Greeks had occupied the important Adriatic port of Palermo, half way between Santa Quaranta and Valona. These advances said a desperate battle was raging along the Elbasan highway northwest of Pogradec.)

It all depends on congress. Dies' pup will have to stop his yapping if the legislators fail to vote him another lease on life, with $1,000,000 or thereabouts to feed on. If they do vote it, he'll go on making life a burden for the justice department.

Considering that the administration has a big party majority on Capitol Hill it may seem as if its majority will vote to muzzle the Texas representative's critter. Yet it's to be remembered that the Democratic majority on the Hill is far from manageable. Plenty of anti-New Deal Democrats there greatly enjoy seeing the White House, the justice department, the FBI and the state department persecuted—and Dies' pooch is persecuting them worse, if anything, than he's persecuting our anti-American contingent. So it's no safe bet that Martin won't get his $1,000,000.

BRIDGE-AT-EIGHT EVENING ASSEMBLY

Plan To Raise Huge Sum For U. S. Defense; No Tax-Exempt Bonds

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The United States treasury has opened the greatest peacetime defense loan drive in history to finance the huge rearmament program.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced that $500,000,000 of wholly taxable treasury notes go on sale today as a start in the program and that "slacker money" will be drafted.

In January, he will ask congress for power to issue long-term defense bonds fully taxable. He served stern notice that the day of the tax-exempt government security is ended. Morgenthau struck at rich men's gold hoarded into government securities carrying the tax exemption privilege. He called it "slacker money," and said it must be "drafted" to help serve the defense program by carrying a tax burden.

President Roosevelt is in full accord with the program, Morgenthau said. The new loan program envisions a revival of world war liberty loan drive fervor and fanfare, and will be aimed to tap the pockets of the "little fellow" as well as the rich. Morgenthau said he anticipated bonds at least as low as $5 when Congress gives consent to the new plan. When asked if he favored even smaller bonds, he retorted: "I wouldn't turn down 25 cents issues if I had a way of issuing them."

Must Raise Huge Sum
"We've got to raise an awful lot of money."

Morgenthau would not estimate the total of the financing planned for next spring. He also refused to say yes or no to a suggestion that the public debt limit will have to be raised to $75,000,000,000 or more in the next four years.

The secretary admitted that the treasury will have to pay "a little more interest" on the taxable note issue that goes on sale today, and on the spring financing. Experts said the new loans might pay as high as two per cent.

The treasury was authorized to issue $4,000,000,000 of taxable notes specifically for defense purposes when congress raised the public debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $49,000,000,000. Morgenthau said that when he asks authority to issue long term taxable bonds he will seek a public debt limit increase to about $65,000,000,000 with no strings attached to the manner of spending.

He felt confident that congress will grant the request and pass the legislation," he said. "I feel very strongly that in view of the defense program we should draft all money—if a man's going to lend his money to the government he should pay taxes."

Challenges Government To Tell Industry Whether Nation Is Facing War

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—American industry today challenged the government to tell it whether or not this country faces involvement in war.

Not until this question is answered, declared H. W. Prentiss, Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers, can the nation's productive apparatus fill its defense role with maximum efficiency.

In his keynote address before industrialists from all parts of the land at the opening of the association's 48th annual convention Prentiss asked:

"What do we intend to protect? To what extent is the government proposing ultimately to reach out beyond those physical areas in which our national interests are directly at stake?"

In addition to the Prentiss speech, the manufacturers also were to hear today talks by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson and former under-secretary of the treasury, John W. Hanes, now chairman of the board of the United States Lines.

Industry, Prentiss emphasized, has moved swiftly to meet all government demands, but it "deeply concerned" over the government's failure to make its real defense aims and to set up centralized authority.

"Industry could do more," he said, "if we are, in the opinion of government, actually faced with emergency war production."

Martha Campbell, of Lawrence, Pa., won the reserve, or second prize, in the lamb trio class, and Raymond Tait, of Mercer, won the single reserve prize. Roy Lee Montgomery, of Waynesburg, Pa., exhibited the grand champion hog.

Koppel Youth Has Tooth In Throat

(International News Service)

KOPPEL, Pa., Dec. 11.—A tooth that fell out and lodged in his throat while he slept sent 16-year-old Edward Paul to Philadelphia today for an operation.

The youth, son of George F. Paul, president of the Koppel school board, swallowed the tooth a week ago, and was taken to Providence hospital, Beaver Falls. Unable to remove it there, physicians sent Paul to Philadelphia where specialists will work on the problem.

Under Henry VIII of England bowling was outlawed, and it was forbidden for any person "for his or her gain, lucre, or living, to keep, have, hold, occupy, exercise or maintain any common house, alley or place of bowling."

Through With Deer Hunting He Says

GROVE CITY, Dec. 11.—Home from the Oil City hospital, where he has been confined since December 2 with a bullet in his arm as the result of a hunting accident, Frank Wells, local merchant, says he's through with deer-hunting. "They'll have to build a concrete 'pill-box' in the big woods to get me back," he declares.

The bullet from a nearby hunter's gun ploughed a furrow through the muscles of Mr. Wells' left forearm, and was removed at the wrist.

Letters of administration to Giovanni Ruozzo in the estate of Rafacile Ruozzo, late of New Castle, who died November 11, 1940.

In a letter to Governor Arthur H. James, Judge W. Walter Braham has asked that no further consideration be given to the possibility of his being appointed to the vacancy now existing upon the state supreme court bench.

Due to the illness of Judge Thomas W. Dickey, Judge Braham feels that his place is on the Lawrence county bench for the present. Some weeks ago a number of friends of Judge Braham, both legal and laymen in this and other counties of the state, urged Governor James to appoint Judge Braham to the vacancy on the supreme bench made by the death of Justice H. Edgar Barnes.

While he appreciates the efforts of his friends, Judge Braham feels that his duty to the courts of this county would preclude his leaving while Judge Dickey is ill.

The first case up before the present term of criminal court was disposed of quickly. The jury took the case against John and George Cameron on Monday afternoon and in six minutes brought in a verdict of guilty of receiving stolen goods.

The case of Charles Kennedy was next called. He is charged with driving an automobile under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Buried deep in a pile of useless records, two interesting books have been unearthed by Al Wilkins of the WPA.

Mr. Wilkins came up with a record of men eligible for military service in the county in 1865 and another showing a census of men eligible for military service in the county in 1888 and 1889.

The 1888-89 book is rather a mystery. It is assumed that the state law then called for the registering of all men of military age and this was done.

Not Too Early To Start Christmas Greetings And Gifts Through Mail

Edwin McBride, superintendent at the Mahoningtown Post Office, stated today that it is not too early this week to start Christmas greetings and gifts on their way through the mail.

"Most people," McBride said, "wait until the last week before Christmas, and oftentimes many are disappointed because their mail is not delivered before December 25."

Packages will undoubtedly get better care and quicker handling now than they will during the holiday "rush season."

In discussing the expected increase in volume, McBride stated that rural patrons can do their share in helping along the Christmas mail by purchasing supplies of postage stamps in advance, and attaching them to all their letters and packages.

MEAT AND BLOOD PRESSURE

A question I am often asked is whether eating meat is a cause of high blood pressure. Salt is another food often connected in the lay mind with high blood pressure. One often hears that both salt and meat are bad for kidneys and that men have given up eating meat because they believed it was bad for rheumatism. It's my observation that these ideas, at least as far as most of us are concerned, are more superstitions than truths. The superstitions stem from the fact that high blood pressure isn't properly understood by the public at large.

High blood pressure isn't a disease in itself, although it may be a symptom. I have known men to go for years with a high blood pressure and not realize it. Then, one day they were examined, they learned they had an abnormally high blood pressure. With the result they became panicky and, worried, proceeded to do everything to make the blood pressure higher, and, really dangerous.

If meat eating gave mankind high blood pressures, then the Eskimos would be the highest in the world. If meat gave you rheumatism, then every Eskimo would have it. Yet examinations at medical stations in the Arctic regions show they are singularly free from these ailments, although they eat meat almost exclusively.

When a person eats a lot of meat, his kidneys are called upon to take care of a lot of nitrogen waste. If the kidneys are healthy and functioning well, there won't be any trouble about this. If they aren't, then something may go wrong because those nitrogen products must be gotten rid of or the person won't be healthy. If they go wrong, the meat can't properly be considered the basic cause of the trouble.

Once when I told a man who wrote to ask if meat would cause high blood pressure about the all-meat diet of most Eskimos, he wrote back to ask me if it were not possible that the Eskimos all had high blood pressure. I had to reply that it was possible.

Rev. Bradley In Battle With Deer

Son Of Local Pastor Has Exciting Battle Near Home In Cherry Creek, N. Y.

Rev. Walter Bradley, pastor of the United Brethren church of Cherry Creek, N. Y., and son of Rev. Harvey Bradley, Wilmington road, pastor of the local Dewey Avenue Free Methodist church, was one of the successful deer hunters this season, but for his 180 pounds of buck, Rev. Bradley really had to work.

Rev. Bradley went hunting near his home with a friend, Rev. Vern Dunham, also of Cherry Creek, the two going in opposite directions to seek their quarry. Some time later Rev. Bradley spied a buck and fired. Injured and angry, the buck started to run with Rev. Bradley following. Rev. Bradley fired again with the buck turning towards him at this shot. Forgetting he had just three shells in the gun, Rev. Bradley fired again and missed.

With the tables turned and the buck now chasing him, Rev. Bradley took to a creek, turned swiftly and killed the buck by hitting him with the broad end of his gun and using his hunter's knife.

For all his trouble, Rev. Bradley had not only 180 pounds of venison, but an injured ankle.

Senators To Renew Battle For Referendum On War

Legislation To Be Sponsored

People Not As Hysterical As Leaders At Washington, Says Nye

WILL SEEK VOTE ON AMENDMENT

By ROBERT A. MCGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A large bipartisan group of senators today served notice they will renew their fight to give the public sole authority to determine whether the United States engages in wars outside the western hemisphere.

Through spokesmen, the group said it would sponsor legislation at the next session of congress for a constitutional amendment for referendum on war proposals that would take the U. S. armed forces outside the Americas. The legislation, it was said, will be similar to a "war referendum" measure passed by the house and blocked in the senate judiciary committee early in the year.

Predict Ratification
Sens. Capper (R) Kan., and Nye (R) N. D., leaders in the senate isolationist block, predicted ratification of the amendment if authorized by the senate. They said that increasing sentiment against participation in European and "foreign" wars enhances ratification of the amendment if submitted to the states.

Opponents of the referendum program, however, warned that it would seriously endanger the military strength of this country, and "weaken us" before the eyes of the totalitarian nations.

"Such a system that would take from congress the right to declare war would weaken us with the bully nations," Sen. Johnson (D) Colo., said. He added that "the American people are more war-like than congress, and I don't think it would be any insurance to keeping us out of war."

People Not So Hysterical
Nye, on the other hand, emphasized that a referendum would insure the United States from participation in "foreign wars."

"The masses of the people are not so hysterical as they are here in Washington since the administration started pulling the war strings," he added.

Sen. Brooks (R) Ill., recently sworn into the senate, differed with his Republican colleague, Nye. He asserted that congress, "elected by the people," should have the sole right to declare war on a foreign power. Similar sentiment was expressed by Sen. Truman (D) Mo. He added that "such a method would impede the safety of the country in time of a crisis."

Capper emphasized that the referendum method "is a fundamental Democratic process," and that "the people have a right to say whether they want this country to break into Europe's wars."

Those who sponsored the original referendum measure in the senate included Clark (D) Mo., Vandenberg (R) Mich., Wheeler (D) Mont., LaFollette (P) Wis., and Bone (D) Wash.

COVENTRY, A CITY OF RUINS, AFTER AIR RAIDS

Devotion Services At St. Michael's Are Concluded

Large Crowd Attends Forty Hour Devotions At St. Michael's Catholic Church

Tuesday evening, the forty hour devotions at St. Michael's church came to a close, with a large crowd attending the services. The Rev. Fr. Robert A. Hanicak of St. Martha's church at Leechburg, gave an inspiring sermon, at 7:30 o'clock. The litany of the saints was sung, and the grand procession, with altar boys and children of the school participating, took place.

Benediction of the blessed sacrament was held, and the celebrant was Rev. Fr. Michael J. Yesko, of St. Mary's church, of Brownsville; deacon, Rev. Fr. Michael Mihok, of St. Mary's and St. Ann's church, of Marianna, Pa.; sub-deacon, Rev. Fr. Anthony Hardy, of the Holy Trinity church, of Ford City; The Rev. Fr. William M. Pisarcik, of St. Michael's, was the master of ceremonies. "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," concluded services.

Since the opening of the forty hour devotions on Sunday morning, lovely bouquets of ferns, palms, and chrysanthemums, beautifully arranged, adorned the altar. During the hours of adoration, many parishioners, as well as visitors came to offer prayers. Priests from Lawrence County were present and also those from Allegheny County.

Sunday morning, the high mass of exposition was sung at 10:30 o'clock, and the pastor, Father Pisarcik, preached the sermon. The procession and litany of the saints followed. Sunday evening, the sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. Joseph Gajdosik, pastor of St. Clement church of Tarentum, Pa., who spoke on the Blessed Eucharist and forty hours. Benediction of the blessed sacrament was held.

Monday morning, mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock, a high mass for peace—"Missa Pro Pace." In the evening, Rev. Fr. John Hruska of St. Mark's church of McKees Rocks, gave the sermon, and benediction followed. Tuesday morning, mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock, and on Tuesday evening the forty hour devotions came to a close.

In addition to priests who assisted at the benediction of the blessed sacrament, during the closing services of the forty hours, on Tuesday evening, the following also assisted in the sanctuary:

The Rev. Fr. Edward R. Szoleng, Madonna church; Rev. Fr. Elias G. Nader, St. John the Baptist Maronite church; Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Abate, of St. Vitus; Rev. Fr. Leo S.

Waterson, of St. Mary's; Rev. Fr. Edmund P. Rowan, of St. Monica's church, Wampum; Rev. Fr. Charles D. Galati, of St. Lawrence church, Hillsville; Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, St. Vitus; Rev. Fr. Joseph Straka, of St. Mathias, Natrona, Pa.; Rev. Fr. Joseph Gajdosik, of St. Clement church, Tarentum, Pa.; Rev. Fr. Joseph McCarthy, of Assumption church of Bellevue; Rev. Fr. James Burke, of St. Francis Xavier church, Northside Pittsburgh; Rev. Fr. Robert A. Hanicak, of St. Martha's church of Leechburg, and Rev. Fr. Dennis J. Doran, of St. Mary's church at Freeport, Pa.

The last battle of the United States Civil war was fought near Brownsville, and was won by the southerners. It was a month after Lee had surrendered at Appomattox, but news traveled so slowly that neither army knew the conflict was over.

Keeping Close 'Tab' On Licenses

City detectives today stopped and inspected trucks operating from outside into the city today for the purpose of ascertaining if the business concerns owning the trucks had taken out a 1940 license. Drivers of trucks stopped several days ago have agreed to pay $24 annually. Treasurer C. C. McKicken stated today.

The first paper mill in the United States was built in 1690 by William Rittenhouse, a Mennonite preacher.

Marrow is a soft material which fills the bone cavities. Blood cells develop in the bone marrow.

Sometimes not enough white blood cells are produced for the body.

There is a deficiency of the components of bone marrow.

This disease is known as "idiopathic aplastic anemia."

How to restore proper functioning of the marrow?

Physicians are now injecting or transfusing healthy bone marrow.

This is a new procedure and physicians are talking little about it.

But results so far are encouraging.

Supplying a specific deficiency is indicated for certain anemias.

Anemias are deficiencies of blood in either quantity or quality.

Blood disorders may be cured by healthy bone marrow injections.

PARCEL POST MEN

ALREADY FEELING
PRE-YULE RUSH

Business at New Castle's Post Office for 1940 is "more than $10,000 ahead of the 1939 figure." Postmaster William R. Hanna reported today.

He made the announcement as the post office force energetically tackled preparations for handling what may turn out to be its biggest Christmas rush. All officials look for a record-breaking or record-shattering season.

Explaining his confidence that the next few weeks will be big ones, Hanna said:

"There's more money about, it seems, and our parcel post is extremely heavy for this time of the month. Usually the parcel post rush starts later. Direct mail figures are better than ever."

The postmaster said an extra parcel post truck has been in daily operation for more than a week. Others will be added as the need arises. Extra men are not expected to be called until the actual post office rush sets in.

Neighborhood House Report Is Presented

November Activities Are Recounted — Plans Made For Christmas Program

Americanization committee met recently in the Y. M. C. A. with the president, B. French Johnson, in charge, with a good attendance of the board present. Plans were made for a Christmas program and the November report of the Neighborhood House was given as follows:

There are nine women enrolled. Classes in citizenship, reading, spelling, writing, studying, and two classes in child evangelism have been opened, meeting on alternate Tuesday evenings in the home of two of the Bible study class members, Mrs. Jennie Comlanas and Mrs. Sylvia Jacob. Children of the neighborhood meet for song service and Bible stories.

L. with 55 enrolled, learning new facts each session about evil effects of alcohol and tobacco; Junior League, with an attendance of about 25. Bible stories are told by means of pictures and songs. Prayer group meets each Tuesday evening at 7:30. The girls of the embroidery circle are making good progress on their quilts. Music class members, Mrs. Russell Muder, teacher, are regular in attendance. Orchestra practice is each Friday evening. Bible study class, Jean Butler, teacher, meets Friday evenings at 8 o'clock. Mothers and their children and some of the older boys and girls make up this class. The Sabbath school orchestra played at the City Rescue Mission on Thanksgiving eve, and at the McKinney class supper.

Requests Should Come After Meals

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 11.—If you want to get something you want very badly, the time to ask for it is immediately after a meal rather than just before, according to Prof. William L. Reuter, Westminster College psychology department.

"Outbursts of anger are much more frequent during the hour before a meal than the hour following," Professor Reuter maintains. "Organic tension arouses anger before eating, while the contentment which follows a meal transmits peace of mind."

Correct this sentence: "I helped forty people," said he, "and twenty expressed their gratitude."

More Than 3,000 Arrests In 1940

So far this year three thousand sixteen persons fell into the clutches of the law, many of them being motorists who failed to pay heed to parking meters. The most serious crime which caused an arrest was murder.

Speaker Who Was On Scene Tells How Germany Overran Country Last Summer

LEFT COUNTRY SHORT TIME AGO

Fred M. Lyon, of Pittsburgh, who was in France as the representative of a large lumber manufacturing concern, told of conditions which he witnessed when Germany overran the country last summer and conquered it.

He finally made his way to Portugal from whence he returned only a few weeks ago, having been delayed because of the outbreak of hostilities between Greece and Italy, the Greek steamer on which he was to have sailed, having been held up because of this.

At the conclusion of his talk, two reels of army pictures were exhibited by Recruiting Sergeant Owen Tighe, which showed the new mechanized army of the United States in action, and also the development of communication, artillery effectiveness, and air strength, which proved of extreme interest to the veterans.

Senior Vice Commander Clarence S. Jarrett was named chairman of Armistice Day activities for next fall, when the local post will remain in New Castle for its own observance instead of going out of town as they have for the past few years.

Lunch was served at the close of the evening's program by the post kitchen police.

Taxable Five-Year Notes Are Offered At Low Interest

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Ignoring precedents the treasury felt out money markets for future billions of defense funds today with a $500,000,000 offering of taxable five year notes at a record-breaking low interest rate.

The bonds went on sale in $100 to $100,000 denominations bearing three fourths of one percent interest annually, subject to federal but not state and local taxation.

Only twice in history has the treasury offered securities of this character at 75 per cent interest. Never before have such securities been subject to federal taxation. With the tax exemption privileges removed, the new issue means the investors will net an interest rate lower than the 75 in some cases as low as half on one per cent.

Turnpike May Be Extended On Pittsburgh End

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—Allegheny county commissioners and a Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission representative were to meet this afternoon to consider possibility of extending the Harrisburg-Pittsburgh "dream highway" through Pittsburgh to the western Allegheny county line.

The proposed extension would be designed to skirt metropolitan Pittsburgh, eliminating a cross-country "bottleneck" for traffic leaving the turnpike at Irwin on the Lincoln highway.

Turnpike Commissioner Walter A. Jones sent word that he was dispatching a commission engineer to Pittsburgh to learn the county's views on such an extension, County Commission Chairman John J. Kane disclosed. Kane said he understood the by-pass extension would move north of the city, carrying the toll super-highway about 50 miles farther west.

Finally, equipped with artificial limbs, Ark was graduated from high school and entered an aviation school. Last year he won a mechanic's license.

New Green is engaged in making giant motors for U. S. army planes in a factory at Hartford Conn. He gets plenty of time for flying, too.

Dental Defects Bar Applicants In Army Tests

Program Recommended To Reduce Number Of Rejections From This Cause

HEADS CAUSE OF REJECTIONS

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, O.—Poor teeth is one of the principal factors cutting down the number of enlistments in the United States armed forces, according to Brig. Gen. Leigh C. Fairbank, Chief of Staff of the Dental Corps of the United States Army.

Because of the depression he told delegates to the 82nd annual medical meeting of the American Dental Association in Cleveland, the problem has been more acute and he cited figures showing that 30 per cent of the applicants during the past few months, were disqualified because of poor dental conditions.

A plan outlined for the Association's approval was called "essential" for the solution of the many problems involved in obtaining sufficient dental service for the men called to defend the country," by General Fairbank.

Urges Close Cooperation
The plan recommended close cooperation with the surgeons-general of the army and navy in a program to reduce the percentage of rejections for dental defects among volunteers and those drafted. A questionnaire sent to every dentist in the country, asked for complete data and the dentist's ability to serve the military and civil needs of the nation.

The third and final point sets in motion a special educational program for dentists by distribution of courses in military dentistry prepared by the War Department.

Dentists of military age who do not volunteer are subject to the draft, General Fairbank declared, adding: "In carrying out mobilization plans we expect to find thousands of draftees who have been denied dental care because of the depression. These defects have a vast influence on their physical well-being. In providing dental care for all the men mobilized we want the very highest quality of dental service and we want to assure these men of the best care possible."

DEVELOP NEW METHOD TO EASE BLOOD PRESSURE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA.—Several surgeons are developing a new operation to relieve blood pressure by removing the patients' kidneys, it was revealed here.

Dr. P. Boland Hughes, of University hospital, reported on three cases in which a diseased kidney was removed with beneficial results. One patient, a 28-year-old man, had his systolic blood pressure reduced from 240 to 180; a woman of 49 from 225 to 175; a third man died two months later of disease in his remaining kidney.

The operations were inspired by the research of Dr. Harry Goldblatt, of Western Reserve University, who found he could raise the blood pressure of dogs by putting a clamp on arteries leading to the kidneys. As a result, the kidneys produced a toxic substance which made other arteries contract and cause the heart to beat faster.

Westminster Wins First Floor Game

Defeats Broadus In Opening Game Of Season At New Wilmington, 50 To 42

GRIFITH HIGH SCORER WITH 19

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 11.—Westminster's Titan cagers got off to a good start on the 1940-41 season here last night by bumping of an Alderson-Broadus quintet, fresh from defeating Waynesburg and Kent cagers, 50-42, in a game which Westminster completely dominated the fourth quarter.

The game was tied five times in the first half, but with the score 19-19 in the second quarter, Westminster took the lead and never lost it. At halftime, the score stood at 34-33 for the Blue and White, but the Titans grabbed a ten-point advantage as the fourth quarter opened, coasted through in the final minutes of play.

Titan cagers held Griffith, West Virginia point-getter and last year's high scorer for the nation, to six points in the first half, but the lucky forward ended the game with 19 points on seven goals and five free throws. Ridd, Fox and Dunmire bagged the bulk of the Westminster points.

In the final quarter, Westminster rang up 16 points while Broadus was collecting 9.

Zene D. ense Used
A revived zone-defense looked good for the Titan defense, which clicked well except for the perfect set-shots of Griffith, and the close-in sneak-shots of Griffith.

The Titans opened the game scoring in a Wasik, Westminster center, made good on two free throws. Broadus, evened the count as Wilmington, leading high-point, took a stray off the bankboard and followed with a free toss to give the Titans a 3-2 lead. A set-shot by Fox, Titan forward, gave Westminster a momentary 4-3 advantage, but Dunmire scored under the basket and repeated out in front to end the first quarter 7-4 in favor of Broadus.

Westminster was taking more shots than the West Virginians but were missing the basket. The Titan zone-defense and close guarding held Griffith, Broadus scoring again, while a point in the first ten minutes of play.

Griffith opened the second quarter with a free toss and Dunmire evened the count at 7-7 as he took a fast pass from Ridd to score under the basket. The Titans added four more points as Wasik counted under the basket and Fox took Ridd's pass for two more points. Griffith Opens Fire Griffith then opened fire for the Titans and made one close in and another with a one-handed jump in front to cut the Titan lead to 13-11. Westminster again enlarged their lead as Ridd made good on a rebound from his own long shot, and Dunmire counted on a charity toss. With the score 16-11, Griffith scored on a rebound and Placz counted from the side. Ridd's long toss was good, but Dunham tied the score at 17-17 on a set-toss inside the Titan defense zone. The half ended as Fox took a leisurely set-shot from inside the West Virginian zone.

Griffith opened the second half with a dribble-under shot to tie the score a fourth time. From this point, with the score 19-19, the Titans went into the lead and were never headed off by the West Virginian offense.

Spak scored close in on a pass from Fox, and followed with a counter from the deep side. Placz, set-shot artist for Alderson-Broadus, flipped an easy one from the side and Ridd made good on two foul tosses. Placz again found the basket, one of many shots that never even scratched the hoop. Ridd's toss gave the Titans a 27-23 lead.

Score Is Close
Dunmire added a free point, and Griffith made a charity throw for Broadus. Ridd dribbled under for Westminster and followed with a single pointer. Each team added a point as Placz and Dunmire made a point apiece. Westminster and Broadus alternated in tallying, and the third quarter ended with the Titans holding a 34-33 lead.

It was the Blue and White's game in the fourth quarter, as they rapidly piled up a ten-point lead on baskets by Dunmire twice, Fox twice and Wasik while the Titans were adding only three points. With a safe lead, 46-36 Fox scored on a pass from Spak, followed by Dunmire's one-handed toss. Griffith made five points for Broadus on close-in baskets and a foul throw, but the visitors were eight points behind as the final gun cracked.

Chicago Bears Get Harmon In Football Draft

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Tommy Harmon, Michigan university's stand out All-American back field ace, was drafted Tuesday by the Chicago Bears, champions of the professional gridiron.

Chicago's other entry in the league—the Cardinals—drew the nation's No. 2 collegiate star—"Jarrin" Jawns Kimbrough, All-American plugging back with the Texas Aggies.

The Bears, whose powerhouse attack crushed the Washington Redskins 7-0 for the pro title Sunday, had first choice in the annual draft under which the ten teams of the National Football league picked the cream of the college players who graduate next June.

Harmon has indicated he does not desire to play professional football, but has not definitely closed the door on pay-for-play career.

Overlin-Belloise To Battle Friday

Middleweight Title At Stake Friday Night In New York Battle
By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Whether youth or age profits most by a tough fight may be demonstrated in Madison Square Garden Friday night when the veteran Ken Overlin once more lays his middleweight title on the line in a 15-round battle with young Steve Belloise.

You may recall that in their last meeting Overlin eked out a very narrow decision but before doing so, Belloise had the champion on the deck and almost out.

"This time," said the Bronx belter today, "Overlin won't get away from me. I'll stop him sure. If I hadn't been over anxious I'd have finished him last time."

In fact, it was the first time I ever had to travel more than eight rounds and I wasn't quite sure that I could go the route. Now I know that I can go the distance better than Overlin. Watch me take him this trip."

Three Seel To Battle Conn
(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The State Athletic Commission today was looking over the three members of the "I want to fight Billy Conn Club" in quest of a suitable opponent for the Pittsburgh light-heavyweight champ.

Jimmy Johnston filed a challenge personally before the commission on behalf of Tommy Tucker, of Brockway, N. Y., and John Buckley telegraphed one from Boston for Tiger Warrington. Jimmy Webb, St. Louis, has had his in for some time.

Conn is committed to defend his title in Madison Square Garden Feb. 28 against any challenger the commission designates. Chairman John J. Phelan said it might decide to hold an elimination contest to pick one.

Flash! Flash!—Pittsburgh's professional football team—the Steelers—now belong to a former New Castle resident, Alexis Thompson. When the deal was consummated late Monday, our favorite tipster provided the local color attached to the item. Fred L. Rentz, president of this sheet and one blessed with the incredible knack of recalling local names and local events, confirmed the report.

The big boss sat back and recalled how Alex W. Thompson, started his steel career here and later amassed a fortune which Alexis inherited. "Mrs. Thompson was a Pearson girl. The family lived on Pittsburgh street and later on Jefferson street. Alexis was born here," Rentz recalled. "The mill was located south on West Washington street, as some of the old timers undoubtedly recall," Rentz concluded.

The deal which saw the Steelers go to the well known and popular Boston sportsman, involved more than $100,000. Some guesses range as high as $150,000. While a number of plans, it is believed that any future team to Boston, a city that has had a desire for such an attraction for several years.

Maher in Texas—With the close of the pigskin campaign, Johnny Maher, who holds down an important post on the Pittsburgh Steelers' organization, has hauled his baggage to Texas, already outlining plans for the 1941 baseball season. Maher, it will be recalled, purchased a half interest in a team in the Lone Star state. His many friends will be pleased to learn that the local boy continues to make good.

Sports mixture—Minnesota's 1941 football foes double up when they think of Bierman's future club. The Gopher mentor loses only four players from his '40 varsity eleven which mopped up everything in sight. If Francis Schmidt is ousted at Ohio State, don't be too sure that he isn't heading for the Pitt tutor is bending an attentive ear to offers shot at him, 'tis rumored.

PEARSON LOOP
Three fast games were played in the Pearson Street Boys' Club basketball league.
Pitt downed Notre Dame, 23-16; N. Y. U. eked out a 22-18 triumph over Long Island and Oregon flatly in Indian, 26-23. Retort, Centennial, Russo, Jananore, and DeLillo were high scorers. Pace and Natale officiated.

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA—American men can help bar Fascism from this country by enlisting as scoutmasters to instruct our youth in principles of democracy, advises Thomas J. Keane of New York, national senior scout chief.
"We have 40,000 scoutmasters in America," Keane told Bucks county scouts, "but we should be able to get 40,000 more. We need them as soon as possible in order to give scouting to all boys who want to join."
He pointed out that Adolf Hitler cemented his control over Germany through his mastery of the youth movement.

Killer Guilty,
To Die April 4

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 11.—In one of the quickest murder trials on record in Mahoning County, Emil Rosovitz, 37, Tuesday was sentenced to death for the holdup killing of John Donnelly, 27.

Execution date was set for next April 4.

A three-judge tribunal reached its "guilty" verdict late this afternoon, a little more than 24 hours after Rosovitz's trial began.

Donnelly was killed in the Italian-American Educational Club on the city's central West Side Aug. 31, when Rosovitz entered the club and robbed the cash register. Donnelly grappled with the gunman and was shot. Rosovitz then was captured by other club members. Mahoning County Judges Erskine Maiden, Jr., David G. Jenkins and George H. Gessner found Rosovitz guilty 35 minutes after they took the case under advisement.

Taking into consideration all the factors of the case, they could find no elements which would provide a condition for mercy and consequent life imprisonment, they held in their decision.

Stock Market Trend Higher

Slow Advance Is Resumed
In Trading In Market During Morning

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The stock market today resumed its slow advance, which was interrupted by yesterday's irregular decline.

Trading was moderately active in the early dealings, with volume swelled by a few large individual blocks of stock. Included were 30,000 shares of New Haven and 17,000 shares of Insuranshares certificates. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and National all were up a point or more at forenoon peaks. Similar gains were shown by American Airlines on its initial dividend, Eastman Kodak and Liggett & Myers "B."

N. Y. Shipbuilding advanced fractionally to a new 1940 peak. American-Hawaiian S. S. and Newport News were up as much.

Stock improvement was shown by coppers, rails, chemicals and aviation generally. Case, moving counter to the trend, lost more than a point. General Motors and Westinghouse were others to lag.

SECOND MAJOR AIRPORT PLAN AT PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce has called a meeting for next Wednesday to discuss plans for a second major airport in Allegheny county, it was learned today. Notices have been sent to interested parties.

Tentatively, the site chosen for the new airport is an 1100 acre tract in Coraopolis Heights known as the old John A. Bell farm. An airport here would cost roughly $5,000,000 while expansion of the present facilities at the county airport would cost between $1,000,000 and $12,000,000, a survey showed.

This loan, Jones explained, will be in addition to any credits extended by the Treasury from its $200,000,000 stabilization fund to stabilize Argentine currency. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has already announced that a $50,000,000 extension for stabilization purposes will be arranged.

Jury Out Entire Night But Fails To Reach Verdict

For the first time since the September sessions of 1939, a jury of the Lawrence County court was out all night Tuesday when the case of Charles R. Kennedy of Ellwood City was considered. Mr. Kennedy was on trial on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The case went to the jury at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. At 9:30 this morning the jury came back into the court room and asked to be discharged. Judge W. Walter Brahm refused the request and insisted upon more deliberation.

At 10:30 the jury again returned to the court room and said that the case was hopelessly hung. Judge Brahm then discharged them and said the case would be tried again in the March sessions of 1941.

The jury was composed of seven women and five men.

NAVY RESERVES CALLED TO DUTY

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The Navy today announced that 19 additional reserve divisions, totaling 65 officers and 1,540 men, have been called to active duty to report this month and next.

All the divisions were assigned to various ships.

Three divisions, the 35th, 36th and 37th were called from St. Louis, Mo., and two, the 24th and 25th, from Chicago.

One division (3rd), Toledo (4th), Columbus (7th), Milwaukee (29th), Rock Island (31st), Madison, Wis. (33rd), Kansas City (41st), Burlington, Ia. (42nd), Omaha (43rd), Minneapolis (45th), Atlanta (1st), Washington (3rd), Camden (8th), Detroit (6th).

Prunes had their origin in western Asia around the Caucasus mountains and the Caspian sea. They were carried by settlers to other climes and are grown today for California.

If you repeat a story that makes people lose confidence in America you are serving some Nazi propaganda.
